

4th ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF THE EUROPEAN SOCIETY OF CRIMINOLOGY

Global Similarities, Local Differences

Amsterdam, The Netherlands
August 25-28, 2004

PROGRAMME

Wednesday 25 August

Registration at the Main Building of the Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, Address: De Boelelaan 1105, 1081 HV Amsterdam	Wednesday 15.00-18.00h
Welcome by the mayor of Amsterdam and reception in the City Hall Address: Amstel 1, 1011 PN Amsterdam	17.30-18.30h

Thursday 26 August

Registration at the Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam	Thursday 08.00 –09.00h
---------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------

Welcome and 1st Plenary “The enlargement of the EU; implications for crime and crime control”	Thursday 09.00-10.00 h
Chair: Ernesto Savona, President of the European Society of Criminology	Room:
Cyrille Fijnaut, Tilburg University, Faculty of Law, the Netherlands Alenka Selih, University of Ljubljana, Faculty of Law, Slovenia

Coffee break	Thursday 10.00-10.30h
---------------------	--------------------------

1.1 Panel session: “Measuring crime prevention, fear of crime and self reported youth crime”	Thursday 10.30-12.00 h
Chair: Kate Bowers, University College London, Jill Dando Institute of Crime Science, United Kingdom	Room:
Panelists: Jonathan Jackson et al., London School of Economics, United Kingdom Intensity and frequency, experience and expression: On some new measures of the fear of crime
Shane Johnson et al., University College London, United Kingdom Quantifying the sustainability of crime prevention measures
Andrew Newton et al., University of Liverpool, The environmental Criminology Research Unit, United Kingdom Corridors of crime

1.2 Panel session: “Criminal decision making: The crime location” Chair: Jasper van der Kemp, NSCR, the Netherlands Panelists: Jasper van der Kemp, NSCR, The Netherlands Location choice, and the reserval... Christianne de Poot et al., NSCR, The Netherlands Social boundaries and crime location choice James LeBeau, Southern Illinois University-Carbondale, Crime Studies Centre, USA The routine arrest space of drug offenders	Thursday 10.30-12.00 h Room:
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-------------------------------------------------

1.3 Panel sessions: “Organised crime and terrorism” Chair: Simha Landau, Hebrew University of Jerusalem, Institute of Criminology, Israel Panelists: Per Stangeland, University of Malaga, Institute of Criminology, Spain Recent trends in Finish anti-terrorist strategies Dave Whyte et al., University of Leeds, Centre for Criminal Justice Studies, United Kingdom Rethinking the War of Terror Ronald Pedro, The University of Southern Mississippi, Department of Criminal Justice, USA Policy and Procedure as a Prelude to Peril: Linkage Blindness and the Terrorism of 9/11 Michael Welch, Rutgers University, Criminal Justice dept., USA Fear of Terror and Scapegoating in a Post-9/11 World: Exploring the Causes and Consequences of Collective Anxiety Silvia Ciotti Galletti, University of Foreigners, Perugia, International Communication, Italy The name and the terror. Proposing a new definition for terrorism.	Thursday 10.30-12.00 h Room:
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-------------------------------------------------

1.4 Panel session: “Insecurity in European cities (InSec)” Chair: Wolfgang Stangl, Institut für Rechts- und Kriminalsoziologie, Austria Panelists: Wolfgang Stangl, Institut für Rechts- und Kriminalsoziologie, Austria Crime and some prevention in Vienna Gerhard Hanak, Institute for Law- and Criminology Sociology, Austria Conditions of (in)security and (dis)content: The case of Vienna Krzysztof Krajewski et al., Jagiellonian University, Department of Criminology, Poland Social roles in prevention of crime in Krakow. Insecurities in European cities Robert Kovács et al., OKRI, Hungary Crime prevention in Hungary	Thursday 10.30-12.00 h Room
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

1.5 Panel session “An investigative psychology approach to youth offending” Chair: Louise Almond, University of Liverpool, Centre for Investigative Psychology, United Kingdom (to be announced) Panelists: David Canter, University of Liverpool, Centre for Investigative Psychology, United Kingdom An investigative psychology approach to youth offending Natalia Wentink, University of Liverpool, Centre for Investigative Psychology, United Kingdom Youth attitudes toward behaviour as a function of the target: viewed from the perspective of rights and duties in society Donna Youngs, University of Liverpool, Centre for Investigative Psychology, United Kingdom Developments in offender profiling: The personality correlates of offence style Louise Almond, University of Liverpool, Centre for Investigative Psychology, United Kingdom Youths who display sexually harmful behaviours: A multivariate model of perpetrator characteristics	Thursday 10.30-12.00 h Room
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

1.6 Panel session: “COST Action A21 ‘Restorative justice developments in Europe’: research challenges” Chair: Ivo Aertsen, Leuven University, Belgium Panelists: Ivo Aertsen, Leuven University, Belgium The European framework of COST and COST Action A21 Kieran O’Dwyer Evaluative research on restorative justice practices Vania Patané et al., University of Catania, Italy Policy oriented research on restorative justice developments Robert MacKay, Perth and Kinross Council, Education and Children’s Services, United Kingdom Theoretical research on restorative justice	Thursday 10.30-12.00 h Room
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

1.7 Panel session: “Theorizing violence” Chair: Willem de Haan, University of Groningen, Department of Criminal Law and Criminology, the Netherlands Panelists: Willem de Haan, University of Groningen, Department of Criminal Law and Criminology, the Netherlands The missing motive in the explanation of crime. A case of ‘senseless violence’ Marlene Zwaan, University of Groningen, Department of Criminal Law and Criminology, the Netherlands When violence makes sense. Contextualizing masculine identities Willem Schinkel, Erasmus University Rotterdam, Faculty of Social Sciences, the Netherlands The end of the means. The autotelic aspect of violence Michelle Butler, University of Cambridge, Institute of Criminology, United Kingdom Are you disrespecting me? Individual self-narratives as predictors of prison interpersonal violence Dee Wood Harper et al., Loyola University New Orleans, Department of Criminal Justice, USA An integrated theoretical perspective on murder/suicide	Thursday 10.30-12.00 h Room
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

1.8 Panel session: “Drugs and street youths” Chair: Carlo Morselli, University of Montreal, School of Criminology, Canada Panelists: Lana Peto-Kujundzic, District Court Zagreb, Croatia Drugs, minors and young adults Véronique Noël et al., University of Montreal, Canada Drugs dealing continuity and street youths: implications for the concepts of criminal capital and criminal embedded ness Yuri Komlev, Kazan Law Institute of the Russian Ministry of Internal Affairs, Department of Politics, Sociology and Psychology, Russia Youth’s drug use prevention: Study and anti-drug restrictive practices	Thursday 10.30-12.00 h Room
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------

1.9 Panel session: “Prosecution” Chair: Hans Nelen, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, Department of Criminology, the Netherlands Panelists: Marianne Gras, University Göttingen, Criminology, Germany The judge before the judge. The changing role of public prosecution in Europe Galma Jahice et al., Istanbul Bilgi University, Faculty of Law, Turkey Judicial discretion in sentencing in Turkish criminal courts: a pilot study Axel Dessecker, Kriminologische Zentralstelle e.V., Germany Private prosecution as a discontinuance strategy Cyrus Tata, Centre for Sentencing Research, Department of Law, United Kingdom The production of ‘guilt’ by the criminal process: fact and fiction in guilty plea decision making	Thursday 10.30-12.00 h Room
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------

1.10 Panel session: “Falcone project” Chair: Michael Levi, Cardiff University, United Kingdom Panelists: Cathelijne van der Schoot, Erasmus University Rotterdam, Department of Criminology, the Netherlands Prevention of organised crime Nicholas Dorn, Cardiff University, Faculty of Social Sciences, United Kingdom European legislative proofing against organised crime and terrorism	Thursday 10.30-12.00 h Room
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------

1.11 Panel session: “Cultural criminology” Chair: Dina Siegel, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, Department of Criminology, the Netherlands Panelists: Alan Block, Penn State University, Criminology, USA The culture of organised crime: a new exotic subject Frank Bovenkerk, Willem Pompe Institute, Utrecht University, the Netherlands Multicultural crime and the criminal law system. A research program Jock Young, John Jay College, Graduate Centre, USA Voodoo criminology and the numbers game	Thursday 10.30-12.00 h Room
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

1.12 Panel session: “The uneasy alliance between crime policy and academic criminology: views from Europe and the USA” Chair: Ineke Haen Marshall, University of Nebraska-Omaha Panelists: Lode Walgrave, Leuven University, Belgium Criminology and justice policy in Belgium: The relation between criminology and criminal policy in Belgium. Between domestication and marginalisation? Josine Junger-Tas, Willem Pompe Institute, Utrecht University, the Netherlands Criminology and justice policy in the Netherlands: Threats to the integrity of scientific research Vincent J. Webb, Arizona State University West, USA Criminology and justice policy in the US: Constructing partnerships to meet the research needs of local governments and communities Jack Greene, Northeastern University, USA Criminology and justice policing in the US: The case of improving police services Elke Devroe, Vrije Universiteit Brussels, Department of Criminology, Belgium Towards a science driven policy: rationalisation of justice Discussant: Cassia Spohn, University of Nebraska-Omaha	Thursday 10.30-12.00 h Room
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

1.13 Panel session: “The police: specific topics regarding race, age and gender” Chair: Maurice Punch, Mannheim Centre, the Netherlands Panelists: Simon Holdaway, Sheffield University, Centre for criminological research, United Kingdom Police ethnicity: Developing a new concept Manon van de Riet, NSCR, the Netherlands Police and minors Ruth Chigwada-Bailey, Criminology in the Millennium, United Kingdom Black Women’s Experiences of Criminal Justice	Thursday 10.30-12.00 h Room
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

1.14 Panel session: “ What works I ” Chair: Christian Grafl, University of Vienna, Department of Criminology, Austria Panelists: José Cid, Autonomous University of Barcelona, Department of political science and public law, Spain Suspended sentence and recidivism Christian Grafl, University of Vienna, Department of Criminology, Austria Community Service in Austria Isabel Zoder et al., Institut de police scientifique et de criminologie Bâtiment de Chimie, Institut de droit pénal et criminologie, Switzerland Recidivism after custodial sanction versus non custodial sanction: a literature review An Raes, Vrije Universiteit Brussels, Department of Criminology, Belgium Community measures and sanctions: a participant, consensual and negotiating model of justice	Thursday 10.30-12.00 h Room
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

1.15 Panel session: “Crime prevention” Chair: Alexander Hirschfield, University of Liverpool, Department of Civic Design, United Kingdom Panelists: Alexander Hirschfield, University of Liverpool, Department of Civic Design, United Kingdom Surveillance technology and situational crime prevention: Bridging the gap between vision science and criminology Maria Christina Giannini, University of Teramo, Faculty of Law, Criminology, Italy Criminality and urban safety in the Italian Abruzzo Region: institutional and architectural prevention Jon Spencer, Department of Applied Social Science, University of Manchester, United Kingdom A Case Study of Street Robbery: Learning The Lessons Johan van Wilsem, Erasmus University Rotterdam, Department of Criminology, the Netherlands The Reasoning Crime Target: Is improved police performance accompanied by less prevention behaviour of private households?	Thursday 10.30-12.00 h Room
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------

Lunch	Thursday 12.15-13.15h
---------------------	----------------------------------

2.1 Peer reviewed: “Evaluating criminal justice programs: a State of the Art” Chair: Frans Leeuw, WODC, Research and Documentation Centre, Ministry of Justice, the Netherlands Panelists: Frans Leeuw et al., WODC, Research and Documentation Centre, Ministry of Justice, the Netherlands Evaluating criminal justice programs Andrea Lee et al., Home Office, United Kingdom Economic Evaluation Paul Ponsaers, Ghent University, Belgium Evaluating the distribution of police-capacity Michael Kilchling, Max Planck Institute for Foreign and International Law, Germany Crime proofing as a method of criminal preventive risk assessment in the law-making procedure	Thursday 13.15-14.30 h Room
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------

2.2 Panel session: “Spatial aspects of crime” Chair: Shane D. Johnson, University College London, Jill Dando Institute of Crime Science, United Kingdom Panelists: Jerry Ratcliffe et al., Temple University, Criminal Justice, USA Targeting crime prevention to hotspots in time and space Wim Bernasco et al., NSCR, The Netherlands Patterns of repeat and near repeat domestic burglary victimization: An epidemiological approach to concentration and diffusion of crime Michael Townsley et al., University College London, Jill Dando Institute of Crime Science, United Kingdom Prostitute Cards in Public Telephone Booths: Mapping carding intensity Kate Bowers et al., University College London, Jill Dando Institute of Crime Science, United Kingdom Crime mapping as anticipation	Thursday 13.15-14.30 h Room
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------

2.3 Peer reviewed: “Human rights violation” Chair: Dirk van Zijl Smit, University of Capetown, Institute of Criminology, South Africa Panelists: Dirk van Zijl Smit, University of Capetown, Institute of Criminology, South Africa Responding to offences against International Criminal Law Roelof Haveman, Leiden University, Faculty of Law, Department of Criminal Sciences, The Netherlands Rethinking crimes against humanity Laura Huey, University of British Columbia, Department of Sociology, Canada Challenging the zero-risk mindset: precaution and the enforcement of international criminal indictments Uwe Ewald, Max Planck Institute Freiburg, Department of Criminology, Germany Fact Finding and Evidentiary Process in International Criminal Justice - A Criminological Perspective	Thursday 13.15-14.30 h Room
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------

2.4 Panel session: “Insecurity in European cities (InSec)” Chair: Irene Sagel-Grande, University of Groningen, Department of Law, the Netherlands Panelists: Manuela du Bois-Reymond et al., University of Leiden, Department of Social Sciences, the Netherlands City development and feelings of well-being and security of city dwellers with special emphasis on ethnic minorities Heike Hermann, TU Hamburg-Harburg, Germany City development and the rising insecurity Wolfgang Keller, University of Hamburg, Department of Criminology, Germany Ethnic segregation and urban insecurities Irene Sagel-Grande, University of Groningen, Department of Law, the Netherlands City development and feelings of well-being and security of city dwellers with special emphasis on ethnic minorities	Thursday 13.15-14.30 h Room
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

2.5 Panel session: “Risk resilience and crime” Chair: Jean Hine, Sheffield University, United Kingdom Panelists: Leigh Dunkerton, University of Sheffield, United Kingdom State intervention, risk and resilience Thilo Boeck, De Montfort University, United Kingdom Social capital, risk and resilience Louise Marsland, University of Essex, United Kingdom Drugs and crime Kay Hawe, University of Nottingham, United Kingdom Ordinary and extraordinary lives	Thursday 13.15-14.30 h Room
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

2.6 Panel session: “COST Action A21 ‘Restorative justice developments in Europe’: working group on theory” Chair: Robert MacKay, Perth and Kinross Council, Education and Children’s Services, United Kingdom Panelists: Robert MacKay, Perth and Kinross Council, Education and Children’s Services, United Kingdom Restorative justice theory and the law Marko Bosjnak, University of Ljubljana, Faculty of Law, Institute of Criminology, Slovenia Some possible controversies between restorative justice and criminal law Johan Deklerck, Leuven University, Department of Criminology, Belgium Restorative justice and definitions of crime Martin Wright, Sussex Law School, Mediation, United Kingdom Can punishment be ethical when it doesn’t work? Inge Vanfraechem, Leuven University, Research Group on Juvenile Criminology, Belgium The role of the community and society in restorative justice	Thursday 13.15-14.30 h Room
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

2.7 Panel session: “IVAWS” Chair: Sami Nevala, European Institute for Crime Prevention and Control, HEUNI, Finland Panelists: Sami Nevala, European Institute for Crime Prevention and Control, HEUNI, Finland International violence against women survey: project overview and status update Maria Giuseppina Muratore et al. , ISTAT, Social Structure and Dynamics Department, Italy Methodological consideration when conducting a survey on violence against women: results from the pilot Italian IVAWS Martin Killias, University of Lausanne, Institute of Criminology and Penal Law, Switzerland Violence against women and the generality of offending Marcela Linkova, Institute of Sociology, Academy of Sciences CR, Czech Republic Domestic violence in the Czech Republic: results of a qualitative survey Jiri Burianek, Charles University Prague, Department of Sociology, Czech Republic Domestic violence: IVAWS Results for the Czech Republic	Thursday 13.15-14.30 h Room
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

2.8 Panel session: “Drugs, crime, court” Chair: Toni Makkai, Australian Institute of Criminology, Australia Panelists: Douglas Sharp, University of Central England, Law, Humanities and social sciences, United Kingdom Brief interventions in alcohol related offending Toni Makkai, Australian Institute of Criminology, Australia Who graduates from a drug court? Gill Mclvor, University of Stirling, Applied Social Science, United Kingdom Establishing drug courts in Scotland: judicial involvement in the drug court process	Thursday 13.15-14.30 h Room
--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------

2.9 Peer reviewed: “Malpractice in the administration of justice: wrongful convictions” Chair: Chrisje Brants, Willem Pompe Institute, Utrecht University, the Netherlands Panelists: Ronald Huff, University of California, Criminology, USA Wrongful Conviction and Comparative Criminology Martin Killias et al., University of Lausanne, Institute of Criminology and Penal Law, Switzerland The Quality of Forensic Evidence and Wrongful Convictions: The American and European Experience compared Geert-Jan Knoops, Willem Pompe Institute, Utrecht University, the Netherlands Contemporary developments as to wrongful convictions in civil law countries Jan de Keijser et al., NSCR, the Netherlands Proof and punishment: judicial dogmatics versus psychology of decision-making	Thursday 13.15-14.30 h Room
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------

2.10 Panel session: “Crossborder organised crime“ Chair: Frank Bovenkerk, Willem Pompe Institute, Utrecht University, the Netherlands Panelists: Mika Junninen, HEUNI, Finland Professional crime in Finland in the 1990’s Martin Cejp, Institute of Criminology and Social Prevention, Czech Republic Foreigners in Organised Crime in the Czech Republic Laima Zilinskiene et al., Vilnius University, Social Theory, Lithuania Transparency in crossing the Lithuanian borders Erika Pladdet, Erasmus University Rotterdam, Department of Criminology, the Netherlands Modern maritime piracy (1995 –2004) Sayaka Fukumi, University of Nottingham, School of Politics, United Kingdom Impacts of Transnational Organised Crime: Cocaine Trafficking in the Andes, Western Europe and the United States	Thursday 13.15-14.30 h Room
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

2.11 Author meets critics: “The safety Utopia” Hans Boutellier, Verwey-Jonker Institute, the Netherlands Referents: Anthony Bottoms, University of Sheffield, Law, United Kingdom René van Swaaningen, Erasmus University Rotterdam, Department of Criminology, the Netherlands Adam Crawford, University of Leeds, Centre for Criminal Justice Studies, United Kingdom	Thursday 13.15-14.30 h Room
--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

2.12 Panel session: “Innovative teaching criminology in a global context” Chair: Tom Ellis, University of Portsmouth, Institute of Criminal Justice Studies, United Kingdom Panelists: Tony Ward, De Montfort University, Department of Law, United Kingdom State crime and street crime: teaching criminology in a global context Andrea Beckmann, University of Lincoln, Department of Policy studies, United Kingdom The challenge of teaching critical criminology in the UK Tom Ellis et al., University of Portsmouth, Institute of Criminal Justice Studies, United Kingdom Encouraging transferable skills in students’ research proposals Andrea di Nicola et al., University of Trento, University of Milan, Transcrime, Italy Mixing a sociological and legal background in training criminologists. The startup of an Italian experience	Thursday 13.15-14.30 h Room
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

2.13 Panel session: “Law enforcement in an international context” Chair: Detlef Nogala, Max Planck Institute for Foreign and International Criminal Law, Germany Panelists: Detlef Nogala, Max Planck Institute for Foreign and International Criminal Law, Germany Police research in a European context Allan Jiao et al., Rowan University, Law & Justice studies, USA Police practice in Hong Kong and New York: A comparative study Jussi Ohisalo et al., University of Helsinki, Department of Criminal Law, Finland Protecting the European budget: The cases of Finland and Slovenia Hiroto Fujiwara, International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia (ICTY), the Netherlands The evolution of international criminal investigations – From Nuremberg to ICC Nancy Grosselfinger, International League for Human Rights, the Netherlands The contribution of the pre-sentencing social inquiry report in international criminal courts	Thursday 13.15-14.30 h Room
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

2.14 Panel session: “ What works II ” Chair: Lode Walgrave, Leuven University, Belgium Panelists: Jo-Anne Wemmers et al., University of Montreal, International Centre for Comparative Criminology, Canada What Fairness Means to Crime Victims: A social psychological perspective on victim-offender mediation Nicole Vettenburg, Ghent University, Social Welfare Studies, Belgium Restorative responses to disciplinary problems in schools. Restorative conferences as a case study Lode Walgrave, Leuven University, Belgium Limits to Restorative Justice Susanne Zoehrer, European Commission, Marie Curie Fellow, France Pre-Trial Diversion in Austria and France	Thursday 13.15-14.30 h Room
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------

2.15 Panel session “Local and global in crime prevention” Chair: Tim Hope, Keele University, Department of Criminology, United Kingdom Panelists: Tim Hope, Keele University, Department of Criminology, United Kingdom The privatisation of residential burglary? Francesca Vianello, University of Padua, Department of Sociology, Italy Safety and security policies between local and global interventions Hazel Croall, Glasgow Caledonian University, Department of Law and Social Sciences, United Kingdom Community Safety and Economic Crime	Thursday 13.15-14.30 h Room
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------

2.16 ESC Working group on quantitative criminology Chair: Andromachi Tseloni	Thursday 13.15-14.30 h Room
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------

Coffee Break	Thursday 14.30-15.00h
----------------------------	----------------------------------

3.1 Panel session: “Compared penal statistics: 20 years of the Council of Europe Annual Penal Statistics, SPACE” Chair: Frieder Dünkel, University of Greifswald, Department of Criminology, Germany Panelists: Marcelo Aebi, University of Sevilla, Institute of Criminology, Spain The Council of Europe Annual Penal Statistics 1983-2003 (SPACE): concepts, methodology and findings Piere Tournier, CNRS, France Community sanctions and measures applied in Europe: how to evaluate their importance? Bruno Aubusson de Cavarlay, CNSR, France Convictions and sanctions in the European Sourcebook: methodology and results	Thursday 15.00-16.15 h Room
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

3.2 Panel session: “Juvenile sex offenders” Chair: Catrien Bijleveld, NSCR, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, Department of Criminology, the Netherlands Panelists: Catrien Bijleveld et al., NSCR, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, Department of Criminology, the Netherlands Juvenile sex offenders: background characteristics, offence characteristics and re-offending Jan Hendriks, de Waag, the Netherlands On the outpatient treatment of juvenile sex offenders Jan Hendriks et al., de Waag, the Netherlands Post-treatment recidivism of incarcerated juvenile sex offenders: a long-term follow up study Kees Zwijnenburg, Harreveld, the Netherlands On the specialized treatment programmes of juvenile sex offenders at Harreveld	Thursday 15.00-16.15 h Room
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

3.3. Author meets critics session: “Mafia brotherhoods” Letizia Paoli, Max Planck Institute for Criminal Law, Department of Criminology, Germany Referents: Paola Monzini, Independent researcher, Italy Alan Block, Penn State University, Department of Criminology, USA Michael Levi, Cardiff University, United Kingdom	Thursday 15.00-16.15 h Room
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

3.4 Panel session: “The glocalisation of anti-globalisation protest and protest policing” Chair: David Waddington, Sheffield Hallam University, School of Cultural Studies, United Kingdom Panelists: Ilan McKim, University of Glamorgan, HaSS, United Kingdom Carnival of dissent: A cultural criminological analysis of anti-globalisation protests Gill Cathless, United Kingdom From global to local: The role of networks in sustaining the anti-globalisation movement Mike King et al., University of Leicester, Department of Criminology, United Kingdom Public order policing change: contextualising and conceptualising the policing of anti-globalisation	Thursday 15.00-16.15 h Room
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

3.5 Panel session: “Developmental criminology I” Chair: Marianne Junger, Utrecht University, Capacitygroup Developmental psychology, The Netherlands Panelists: Marianne Junger et al., Utrecht University, Capacitygroup Developmental psychology, the Netherlands Self-control and physical aggression in pre-school children Machteld Hoeve et al., NSCR, the Netherlands Long-Term Effects of Parenting and Family Characteristics on delinquency of Male Young Adults Andrea Donker et al., Criminal law & Criminology, University of Leiden, The Netherlands Combined Parent and Teacher Reports on Childhood Disruptive Behavior as Predictors of Young-Adult Delinquency Cathy Brolet, Vrije Universiteit Brussel, Faculty of Law, Department of Criminology, Belgium Young violence. Research on the prevalence of violent juvenile offending in Brussels and on the characteristics of the perpetrators. (work in progress)	Thursday 15.00-16.15 h Room
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

3.6 Peer reviewed: “Punishment and treatment: a hybrid approach” Chair: Paul Wiles, Home Office, London, United Kingdom Panelists: Friedrich Lösel, University of Erlangen-Nuremberg, Institute for Psychology, Germany What works in offender treatment? Results and problems of outcome evaluations Marianne van Ooyen, WODC, Research and Documentation Centre, Ministry of Justice, the Netherlands Quasi compulsory treatment in the Netherlands. Preliminary results of a literature review Alex Stevens, University of Kent, European Institute of Social Services, United Kingdom Drugs, crime and coercion: the effects of selection on practice and policy Peter Mascini, WODC, Research and Documentation Centre, Ministry of Justice, the Netherlands Punishing, reforming and legalising: explaining attitudes towards crime fighting	Thursday 15.00-16.15 h Room
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

3.7 Peer reviewed: “Streetgangs and troublesome youth groups around the world, qualitative approaches” Chair: Frank Weerman, NSCR, the Netherlands Panelists: Finn Esbensen et al., University of Missouri-St.Louis, Department of Criminology and Criminal Justice, USA Violent juvenile offenders: The role of gang membership in offense specialization Scott Decker, University of Missouri-St.Louis, Department of Criminology and Criminal Justice, USA The impact of gang organisation and structure on gang activity Judith Aldridge et al., University of Manchester, Department of Applied Social Science, United Kingdom Identifying gangs in a large English city: measurement criteria and conflicting accounts Kerstin Reich et al., University of Tuebingen, Institute of Criminology, Germany Container brothers and kings or can we speak of gangs in Germany?	Thursday 15.00-16.15 h Room
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

3.8 Panel session: “Challenges in drug policy” Chair: Damian Zaitch, Erasmus University Rotterdam, Department of Criminology, the Netherlands Panelists: Caroline Chatwin, Middlesex University, Department of Criminology and Sociology, United Kingdom A harmonised drug policy for Europe? Olena Shostko, National Law Academy of Ukraine, Department of Criminology and Correctional Law, Ukraine Counteracting problems of illicit drug trafficking in Ukraine Miklós Lévy, University of Miskolc, Faculty of Law, Hungary Reasons and outcomes of drug-related criminal law legislation in Hungary	Thursday 15.00-16.15 h Room
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

3.9 Peer reviewed: “Malpractice in the administration of justice: wrongful convictions” Chair: Chrisje Brants, Willem Pompe Institute, Utrecht University, the Netherlands Panelists: Chrisje Brants, Willem Pompe Institute, Utrecht University, the Netherlands The vulnerability of the inquisitorial system of criminal law to wrongful conviction Peter van Koppen, NSCR, the Netherlands Correlates of miscarriages of justice Beatrice Schiffer et al., University of Lausanne, Switzerland Judicial error and forensic science: Pondering the contribution of (DNA) evidence Joerg-Martin Jehle, University of Gottingen, Department of Criminology, Germany How to indentify wrongful convictions? – Ordinary and extra-ordinary procedural means in German law	Thursday 15.00-16.15 h Room
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

3.10 Panel session: “Transnational crime and corruption issues in the Black Sea Region” Chair: Louise Shelley, TRaCCC, Georgia Panelists: Victor Dryomin, Odessa National Academy of Law, Centre on organised crime study, Department of Criminology, Ukraine Security in the Black Sea Region: Ukrainian Perspectives Aleksandre Kukhianidze, TRaCCC, Georgia Contraband trade in the Black Sea Region Natalia Lopashenko, Saratov Centre for the Study of Organised Crime and Corruption, Russia Organised crime and corruption in the Black Sea Region, Russian perspectives Louise Shelley, TRaCCC, Georgia Combatting transnational organised crime and corruption in the Black Sea Region	Thursday 15.00-16.15 h Room
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

3.11 Panel session: “Technology and crime control” Chair: Katja Franko Aas, University of Oslo, Institute of Criminology and Sociology of Law, Norway (to be announced) Panelists: Katja Franko Aas, University of Oslo, Institute of Criminology and Sociology of Law, Norway Sentencing in the Age of Information Helene Oppen Gundhus, University of Oslo, Institute of Criminology and Sociology of Law, Norway ICT and proactive policing Heidi Mork Lomell, University of Oslo, Norwegian Centre for Human Rights, Norway The different roles of CCTV operators in surveillance practices	Thursday 15.00-16.15 h Room
--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

3.12 Panel session: “Prison conditions I” Chair: Martin Moerings, University of Leiden, Department of Criminal Sciences, the Netherlands Panelists: Frieder Dünkel, University of Greifswald, Department of Criminology, Germany Human rights in prison – empirical findings on living conditions in prisons in the countries of the Baltic Sea region Martin Moerings, University of Leiden, Department of Criminal Sciences, the Netherlands Prisoner’s rates and developments in the Dutch society Beatriz Tébar, Universidad Autonoma de Barcelona, Facultad de Derecho Who gets parole in Spain? Some research findings regarding the practice of the Spanish parole system in Catalonia	Thursday 15.00-16.15 h Room
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

3.13	Thursday 15.00-16.15 h Room
--------------------	------------------------------------------------

3.14 Panel session: “Sentencing reform” Chair: Eric Maes, Federal Service Justice, National Institute of Criminalistics and Criminology, Belgium (to be announced) Panelists: Julian Roberts, University of Ottawa, Department of Criminology, Canada An Analysis of Statutory Sentencing Reform in England and Wales Eric Maes, Federal Service Justice, National Institute of Criminalistics and Criminology, Belgium Pre-trial detention and the overcrowding of prisons in Belgium Marjorie Oloo, University of Leicester, Department of Criminology, United Kingdom Prisons: A Kenyan Perspective	Thursday 15.00-16.15 h Room
3.15 Round table discussion: “Findings of the STOP II Project on trafficking in the old EU Member Countries” Chair: Andrea di Nicola, University of Trento, University of Milan, Transcrime, Italy Christina de Rechea Alberola, University of Castilla, Faculty of Law, Spain. Kauko Aromaa, European Institute for Crime Prevention and Control, affiliated with the United Nations, Finland Robert Oberloher, UNICRI, Italy	Thursday 15.00-16.15 h Room
Excursion City of Amsterdam	Thursday 15.00-17.00h
2nd Plenary “Genocide subject matter for criminology” Chair: Catrien Bijleveld, NSCR, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, Department of Criminology, the Netherlands Paul Roberts, University of Nottingham, United Kingdom Abdullahi Ahmed An Na'im, Emory University, School of Law, United Kingdom	Thursday 16.30-17.30 h Room
Reception hosted by Erasmus University of Rotterdam	Thursday 17.30-18.30h
Informal meeting ESC Newsletter Chair: Sara Harrop, ESC Newsletter	Thursday 17.30-18.30h

Dinner Cruise (separate registration)	Thursday 19.30-22.00h
----------------------------------------------	--------------------------

Friday 27 August

3rd Plenary “Migration and urban problems; local effects of global developments” Chair: René van Swaaningen, Erasmus University Rotterdam, Department of Criminology, the Netherlands Sophie Body Gendrot, Sorbonne, France	Friday 09.00-10.00 h Room
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------

Coffee Break	Friday 10.00-10.30h
---------------------	------------------------

4.1 Panel session: “Multilevel modelling analysis” Chair: Andromachi Tseloni, University of Macedonia, Greece Panelists: Heike Goudriaan et al., NSCR, the Netherlands The decision-making process for crime reporting: How reasons for reporting or not reporting to the police differ over characteristics of the crime and the victim Gary Lafree et al., University of Maryland, USA Homicide rate and democracy Sandra Bulli et al., Home Office, United Kingdom Crime in England: a disaggregated cross-section approach to modelling	Friday 10.30-11.45 h Room
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------

4.2 Panel session: “International crime victim survey” Chair: Helmut Kury, Max Planck Institute, Germany Panelists: Anna Alvazzi del Frate, United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, Research and Analysis Section, Austria The Fifth International Crime Victim Survey Jan van Dijk, UNICRI, Italy On the relationships between levels of organised crime, conventional crime and human trafficking	Friday 10.30-11.45 h Room
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------

4.3 Panel session: “Social and psychological determinants and crime” Chair: Godfried Engbersen, Erasmus University Rotterdam, Faculty of the Social Sciences, the Netherlands (to be announced) Panelists: Godfried Engbersen et al., Erasmus University Rotterdam, Faculty of the Social Sciences, the Netherlands The increase in survival crime among illegal immigrants Seyed Hossein Serajzadeh, Teacher Training University, Department of Sociology, Iran Social determinants of the seriousness of crime among Iranian students Beth Hodgson, University of Huddersfield, Applied Criminology Group, United Kingdom Co-offending reflected in official statistics and victim reports Lucy Holmes, University of Edinburgh, Edinburgh study of youth transitions and crime, United Kingdom Self-esteem, depression and poor social relationships: an exploration of how adolescent boys and girls differently experience psychosocial disorders in the context of offending and victimisation patterns	Friday 10.30-11.45 h Room
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

4.4 Panel session: “Punitivity and punishment” Chair: Elena Larrauri, Autonomous University of Barcelona, Ciencia politica y Derecho Publico, Spain Panelists: Harald Kania et al., Max Planck Institute for Foreign and International Criminal Law, Department of Criminology, Germany A qualitative approach to folk concepts of crime and punishment in Germany Elena Larrauri, Autonomous University of Barcelona, Ciencia politica y Derecho Publico, Spain Non custodial sanctions in punitive times: penal reform in Spain in 2003 Vincenzo Scalia, University of Macerata, Italy Reaction to youth crime in a wealthy city: the case of Bologna Genovaite Babachinaite, Law University of Lithuania, Department of Criminology, Lithuania Crime coverage in the Lithuanian press as a source of fear of crime	Friday 10.30-11.45 h Room
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

4.5 Peer reviewed: “Developmental criminology II” Chair: Hans Koot, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, Department of developmental psychology, the Netherlands Panelists: Hans Koot, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, Department of developmental psychology, the Netherlands The intimate relationship between victimization and juvenile delinquency Rolf Loeber, University of Pittsburgh Medical Centre, USA A criminal career approach to victimization costs and public safety Michael Tonry, University of Cambridge, Institute of Criminology, United Kingdom Developmental criminology: What do we know about the effectiveness of sanctions?	Friday 10.30-11.45 h Room
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

4.6 Panel session: “Restorative justice: Current themes” Chair: Lode Walgrave, Leuven University, Department of Criminology, Belgium Panelists: Lode Walgrave, Leuven University, Department of Criminology, Belgium The limits of restorative justice Bas van Stokkom, Radboud University Nijmegen, Centre for Ethics, the Netherlands Police mediation in the Netherlands. Problems and prospects Judith Leest, Utrecht University, Faculty of Law, the Netherlands Mediation and conferencing experiences in the Netherlands and Belgium. Preliminary findings of in-depth interviews with victims and offenders	Friday 10.30-11.45 h Room
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

4.7 Panel session: “Streetgangs and troublesome youth groups around the world, qualitative approaches” Chair: Frank van Gemert, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, Department of Criminology, the Netherlands Panelists: Gregory Scott, DePaul University, Department of Sociology, USA The drug-dealing streetgang in Chicago: Catalyst and impediment to the reentry of ex-prisoners and the advancement of community Alexander Shashkin, Russian Academy of Sciences, Department of Deviant Behaviour, Russia Violent youth cultures in Moscow: The case of skinheads and football hooligans Frank van Gemert, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, Department of Criminology, the Netherlands Youth groups and gangs in Amsterdam; A pretest of the Eurogang Expert Survey Elmar Weitekamp et al., Leuven University, Department of Criminal Law and Criminology, Belgium Gang membership and violence among young German immigrants from the Former Soviet Union	Friday 10.30-11.45 h Room
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------

4.8 Panel session: “Drug use in high risk environments” Chair: Randi Ervik, Norwegian Institute for Alcohol and Drug Research, Norway Panelists: Morag MacDonald, University of Central England, Centre for Research into Quality, United Kingdom Sex, drugs and communicable diseases in prisons Susie Atherton, University of Central England, Faculty of Law, Department of Humanities and Social Sciences, United Kingdom Problematic drugs and alcohol users in police detention. The EU: a review of current research Randi Ervik, Norwegian Institute for Alcohol and Drug Research, Norway Risk Opiate Study – Europe (ROSE_EU): Some results from Oslo Patrik Manzoni, Centre for Addiction and Mental Health, Social, Prevention & Health Policy Research, Canada Crime among regular opiate users outside of treatment: A follow-up study from Canada	Friday 10.30-11.45 h Room
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------

4.9 Panel session: “Punishment” Chair: Laurence French, Prairie View A&M University, Department of Psychology, Department of Criminology, USA Panelists: Laurence Armand French, Prairie View A&M University, Department of Psychology, Department of Criminology, USA Capital punishment in the USA: A major roadblock to fighting ‘terrorisme’ Simona Diblíková, ICSP, Institute of Criminology and Social Prevention, Czech Republic Life sentence in Czech Republic Tomer Einat, Jordan Valley College, Department of Criminology, Israel Shock-incarceration programs in Israeli sanctioning policy: toward a new model of punishment Michael W. Smith et al., Saint Anselm College, Department of Sociology, USA Mandatory deportation under the US department of homeland security: An analysis of political, structural and behavioural factors Cyrus Tata, Centre for Sentencing Research, Department of Law, United Kingdom Why do penal reform programmes tend to end in disappointment	Friday 10.30-11.45 h Room
--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------

4.10 Panel session: “Topics in transnational crime and corruption in the Former Soviet Union” Chair: Louise Shelley, TRaCCC, Georgia Panelists: Giorgi Glonti, TRaCCC, Georgia Organised crime groups and the ‘thieves in law’ Vladimir Golubev, Computer Crime Research Centre, Ukraine Problems of combating computer crimes and cyber terrorism in Ukraine Elena Turiukanova, Russian Academy of Sciences, Institute for Socio-Economic Studies of Population, Russia NIS migrants in Russia: Irregular migration, forced labor and human trafficking Eugenia Unaniants, TRaCCC, Georgia Corruption in Georgia’s construction sector and prospects for TRACECA development	Friday 10.30-11.45 h Room
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------

4.11 Author meets critics session: “Trafficking cocaine” Damian Zaitch, Erasmus University Rotterdam, Department of Criminology, the Netherlands Referents: Klaus von Lampe, Freie Universitat Berlin, Germany Letizia Paoli, Max Planck Institute for Criminal Law, Department of Criminology, Germany	Friday 10.30-11.45 h Room
4.12 ESC Working Group: “International Self Report Delinquency Study (ISR D)” Chair: Josine Junger-Tas	Friday 10.30-11.45 h Room
4.13 Panel session “Public perceptions of the police” Sponsored by “Politie en Wetenschap” Chair: Frits Vlek, Ministry of Justice, Politie en Wetenschap, The Netherlands Panelists: Markku Heiskanen, The Police College of Finland, Research Unit, Finland How well the police serves the victim Mutlu M. Kayhan, Middle East Technical University, Department of Sociology, Turkey Police and community relations Richard Bennet et al., American University, Department of Justice, Law and Society, USA Governmental legitimacy, corruption and citizens willingness to report crimes to the police: a cross-national study Inge Bakker, University of Twente, Institute of Social Safety Studies, the Netherlands Police Knowledge Net- The development and acceptance of a central knowledge database for the Dutch police Beatrix Elsner, University of Goettingen, Department of Criminology, Germany Policing the police. The independence of police decision-making in Europe	Friday 10.30-11.45 h Room

4.14 Panel session: “Combating and prevention of organised crime” Chair: Henk van de Bunt, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, Erasmus University Rotterdam, Department of Criminology, the Netherlands Panelists: Hans van der Veen, Visible Hand Research, the Netherlands The Trans-Mediterranean Drug Complex. Drug Trade, Drug Control and the Prospects for instituting Social, Political and Economic Rights Anatoly Zakalyuk, Academy of Sciences, Ukraine Combating transnational organised crime in Ukraine: current aspects Leanne Weber, University of Western Sidney, Australia Policing the virtual borders Federica Curtol, Transcrime, Italy The contribution of data exchange systems to the fight against organised crime: preliminary findings of a study carried out in 14 Eastern European countries	Friday 10.30-11.45 h Room
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

4.15 ESC Working Group: “University Curriculum Issues in European Criminology” Chair: Rosemary Barberet, University Carlos III Madrid, Spain Jay Albanese, National Institute of Justice, USA The ACJS minimum standards for criminal justice education and their usefulness for Europe Gordon Hughes, Open University, Faculty of Social Sciences, United Kingdom Opening up criminology: mass distance learning and the criminological imagination Cristina Rechea-Alberola, University of Castilla-La Mancha, Centre of Criminology Research, Spain Teaching and learning criminology in Spain Geert Vervaeke, Leuven University, Department of Criminal law and Criminology, Belgium Bologna and the criminology curriculum: the Leuven case: nightmare and challenge René van Swaaningen, Erasmus University Rotterdam, Department of Criminology, the Netherlands Is criminology becoming too popular?	Friday 10.30-11.45 h Room
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

4.16 Panel session: “Exploring New Research Tools” Chair: Dietrich Oberwittler, University of Cambridge, Institute of Criminology, United Kingdom Panelists: Dietrich Oberwittler, University of Cambridge, Institute of Criminology, United Kingdom The need for computer-aided interview techniques in school surveys on self reported delinquency Debora Moolenaar, WODC, Research and Documentation Centre, Ministry of Justice, the Netherlands A forecasting model for the justice chain Barbara Vettori, TRANSCRIME, Italy Measuring organised crime in the EU member states: state of play and possible future developments	Friday 10.30-11.45 h Room
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

General Assembly	Friday 12.00-13.15h
--------------------------------	-------------------------------------------------------------------

Lunch	Friday 13.15-14.15h
---------------------	-------------------------------------------------------------------

5.1 Panel session: “Measuring recidivism, reconviction and delinquent populations” Chair: Carol Clethero, Scottish Executive, Criminal Justice, Scotland Panelists: Nikolaj Tollenaar, WODC, Research and Documentation Centre, Ministry of Justice, the Netherlands Population reconviction predictions for the Netherlands Carol Clethero et al., Scottish Executive, Criminal justice, Scotland Previous conviction analysis of offenders convicted of homicide in Scotland Kimmo Hypén, Criminal Sanctions Agency, Finland The rates and causes of death amongst released prisoners in Finland 1993-2002 Maarten Cruyff et al., Utrecht University, Department of Methodology and Statistics, the Netherlands Estimation of the size of delinquent populations	Friday 14.15-15.30 h Room
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

5.2 Panel session: “Historical criminology” Chair: Thomas Albert Gilly, ERCES, France Panelists: Yakov Gilinskiy, Sociological Institute, Department of Sociology of Deviance and Social Control, Russia Exclusion as the source of crime, terrorism and another deviance Simon Cottee, University of Wales Bangor, Centre for Comparative Criminology and Criminal Justice, United Kingdom States of denial: Islamic terrorism and the left Thomas Albert Gilly, ERCES, France The regime of the terror during the French revolution: from the origins of contemporary terrorism towards the construction of origins	Friday 14.15-15.30 h Room
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------

5.3 Panel session: “Culture of control” Chair: Sonja Snacken, Vrije Universiteit Brussels, Department of Criminology, Belgium (to be announced) Panelists: Sonja Snacken, Vrije Universiteit Brussels, Department of Criminology, Belgium The ‘culture of control’ from a Belgian and continental Europe point of view Sanja Kutnjak Ivkovich, Florida State University, School of Criminology and Criminal Justice, USA Police code of silence: Explaining differences and detecting similarities Elisabeth Lissenberg, University of Amsterdam, Faculty of Law, Department of Criminology, The Netherlands Whistleblowers: Caught between a culture of control and a culture of denial Maurice Punch, Mannheim Centre, the Netherlands Pathways into police crime	Friday 14.15-15.30 h Room
--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------

5.4 Peer reviewed: “Comparing cultures and politics of safety in Europe” Chair: Gordon Hughes, Open University, Department of Social Sciences, United Kingdom Panelists: Gordon Hughes et al., Open University, Department of Social Sciences, United Kingdom Comparing cultures and politics of safety in Europe (under auspices of European governance of public safety research network) Jacques de Maillard, CERAT – Sciences PO Grenoble, France Governing local security in France: contractualisation, tensions and ambiguity René van Swaaningen, Erasmus University Rotterdam, Department of Criminology, the Netherlands Crime Control and the Management of Fear	Friday 14.15-15.30 h Room
5.5 Panel session: “Developmental Criminology II ” Chair: André van der Laan, WODC, Research and Documentation Centre, Ministry of Justice, The Netherlands Panelists: Arjan Blokland et al., NSCR, the Netherlands Life span offending trajectories of a Dutch conviction cohort Torbjorn Skardhamar, Statistics Norway, Division for Social and Demographic Research, Norway A register study on crime and social change André van der Laan, WODC, Research and Documentation Centre, Ministry of Justice, The Netherlands Defiance and delinquency Svetlana Stephenson, London Metropolitan University, Applied Social Sciences, United Kingdom Youth, Violence and Public Policy in Moscow	Friday 14.15-15.30 h Room
5.6 Panel session: “The Campbell crime and justice group” Chair: Peter van der Laan, NSCR, the Netherlands Panelists: Martin Killias, University of Lausanne, Institute of Criminology and Penal Law, Switzerland Peter van der Laan, NSCR, the Netherlands Friedrich Losel, Friedrich-Alexander Universität Erlangen-Nürnberg, Germany	Friday 14.15-15.30 h Room

5.7 Panel session: “Analysing and explaining violent crime, police and the media” Chair: Karin Wittebrood, Social and Cultural planning office, the Netherlands Panelists: George Saridakis, University of Leicester, Department of Economics, United Kingdom What keeps violent crime rates high in England and Wales? An empirical Approach Johannes Knuttson et al., National Police Academy, Norway Police use of firearms and criminality Jonathan Jackson et al., London School of Economics, Methodology Institute, United Kingdom On the moral and social authority of the police Brian Francis et al., University of Lancaster, United Kingdom Copycat killings and newspaper reporting – a reappraisal	Friday 14.15-15.30 h Room
--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------

5.8 Panel session: “Violence in total institutions” Chair: Frans Winkel, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, the Netherlands Panelists: Otmar Hagemann, University of Applied Sciences Kiel, Department of Social Work and Health, Germany Victimization of prisoners and resolution of conflicts in prison Simha Landau, Hebrew University of Jerusalem, Institute of Criminology, Israel Violence against personnel in hospital emergency wards: the Israeli experience Anna Baldry et al., Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, Department of Clinical Psychology, the Netherlands Effects of exposure for direct and indirect violence at school and at home on Italian adolescence	Friday 14.15-15.30 h Room
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------

5.9 Panel session: “Juvenile justice” Chair: David Nelken, University of Macerata, Department of Sociology, Italy (to be announced) Panelists: John Muncie, The Open University, Department of Social Sciences, United Kingdom Repenalisation and rights: Explorations in comparative juvenile justice David Nelken, University of Macerata, Department of Sociology, Italy Juvenile justice in Italy: getting it right or getting away with murder Karl Schumann et al., University of Bremen, Faculty of Law, Germany Comparing the effects of the juvenile justice systems in the US and Germany – A life course perspective Catherine van Dijk et al., Vrije Universiteit Brussels, Department of Criminology, Belgium Transferring juvenile offenders to adult court: a valuable option? Elisa Garcia-España et al., Andalusian Institute of Criminology at Malaga, Spain Moroccan juveniles in situations of high risk of vulnerability	Friday 14.15-15.30 h Room
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------

5.10 Round table discussion: “Assessing and measuring organised crime: past, current and future projects” Chair: Klaus von Lampe, Max Planck Institute, Germany	Friday 14.15-15.30 h Room
--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------

5.11 Panel session: “Conferencing as a way of dealing with juvenile delinquency” Chair: Lode Walgrave, Leuven University, Department of Criminology, Belgium Panelists: Vince Mercer, Greater Manchester Youth Justice Trust, Family group meetings project, United Kingdom The use of conferencing as an approach to juvenile crime in England and Wales since 1999 Inge Vanfraechem, Leuven University, Research Group on Juvenile Criminology, Belgium Conferencing for serious juvenile delinquency in Flanders, Belgium Rob van Pagée, the Netherlands Conferencing in the Netherlands	Friday 14.15-15.30 h Room
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------

5.12 ESC Working Group: “Juvenile justice” Chair: Josine Junger-Tas, Willem Pompe Institute, Utrecht University, the Netherlands	Friday 14.15-15.30 h Room
5.13 Panel session: “Prison conditions II” Chair: Yvonne Jewkes, University of Hull, Department of Criminology, United Kingdom Panelists: Paul Gorman, University of Central England, Centre for research into quality, United Kingdom Suicide and self-harm prevention and approved premises Alison Liebling, University of Cambridge, Institute of Criminology, United Kingdom Revisiting prison suicide Fergus McNeill, Universities of Glasgow and Strathclyde, Glasgow School of Social Work, Scotland Probation in Scotland: From welfare to correctionalism? Probation in Scotland Yvonne Jewkes, University of Hull, Department of Criminology, United Kingdom Justice Behind Closed Doors: Implications of the Harry Roberts Case	Friday 14.15-15.30 h Room
5.14 Panel session: “Stalking & violence” Chair: Dina Siegel, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, Department of Criminology, the Netherlands Panelists: Anne Groenen et al., Leuven University, Faculty of Law, Belgium Police Intervention in stalking cases Jonathan Allen et al., Home Office, Crime Surveys Section, Research Development and Statistics Directorate, London, United Kingdom Domestic violence, sexual assault and stalking: Findings from the British Crime Survey Mathieu Simonin, Home Office, RDS, International Group, London, United Kingdom The role of former partners in violence against women: findings based on a new Swiss national survey. Laura de Fazio et al., University of Modena and Reggio Emilia, Medicina Legale, Policlinico, Italy Stalking: intervention, approaches and training needs in helping professions	Friday 14.15-15.30 h Room

5.15 Panel session: “Partnerships and crime prevention” Chair: Iain Crow, University of Sheffield, Department of Law, United Kingdom Panelists: Layla Skinns, University of Cambridge, Institute of Criminology, United Kingdom Cops, councils and crime and disorder: a critical review of three community safety partnerships John Chapman, Dorset Crime and Disorder Reduction Partnerships, United Kingdom Longitudinal findings from a fear of crime survey and its implications for understanding levels of crime in local communities Riudiaz Garcia, University of Rioja, Unidad predepartamentale de ciencias sociales del trabajo, Spain Prison services in democratic Spain Iain Crow, University of Sheffield, Department of Law, United Kingdom The Evaluation of Three Communities That Care Projects in the UK	Friday 14.15-15.30 h Room
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

5.16 ESC Working Group “The effectiveness of criminal justice systems” Chair: Chris Lewis John Graham, Audit Commission, United Kingdom Chris Lewis, United Kingdom Joerg-Martin Jehle, Germany Analida Ivanovic, USA Bruno Aubusson de Cavarlay, France Andre Kuhn, Switzerland Sandor Erdosi, Hungary	Friday 14.15-15.30 h Room
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Icecream break, hosted by the ASC	Friday 15.30-16.00h
--------------------------------------------------------	-------------------------------------------------------------------

6.1 Panel session “Measuring public attitudes towards crime and punishment” Chair: Kristel Beijens, Vrije Universiteit Brussels, Department of Criminology, Belgium Panelists: Dirk Enzman, University of Hamburg, Institute of Criminal Sciences, Department of Criminology, Germany How to Measure Self-Control? Construct validation of the Grasmick et al. Self-Control Scale Helmut Kury, Max Planck Institute, Germany Fear of crime – What do we measure? Kristof Verfaillie et al., Vrije Universiteit Brussels, Department of Criminology, Belgium Studying public attitudes to punishment: reflections on methodology, use and impact on penal policy Lieven Pauwels et al., University of Ghent, Penal Law and Criminology, Belgium The impact of methods bias in etiological self-reported delinquency research: a causal modelling approach Robert Manchin, The Gallup Organisation Europe, Belgium ICS-based European Survey of Crime and Safety	Friday 16.00-17.15 h Room
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

6.2 Panel session: “Social problems and crime: Criminology, social theory and the problems of times” Chair: Thomas Albert Gilly, ERCES, France Panelists: Thomas Albert Gilly, ERCES, France Criminology and the dilemma of values Yakov Gilinskiy, Sociological Institute, Sociology of Deviance and Social Control, Russia Victimological survey in St. Petersburg (Russia) Jukka Kekkonen, Helsinki University, Faculty of Law, Finland The effects of Finnish civil war of 1918 on Finnish control policy Miroslav Scheinost, Institute of Criminology and Social Prevention, Czech Republic Transnational organized crime as enterprise	Friday 16.00-17.15 h Room
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

6.3 Panel session: “Analysis of offenders” Chair: Hélène Deleu, Federal Police, Department of Strategic Analysis, Belgium Panelists: Andrew Costello & Anthony Bottoms, University of Sheffield, Faculty of Law, Department of Criminology, United Kingdom Repeat residential burglary victimisation: the time signatures and repeat offenders Hélène Deleu et al., Federal Police, Department of Strategic Analysis, Belgium Analysis of offenders, offender groups and networks: concept and methodology Joerg-Martin Jehle, University Gottingen, Department of Criminology, Germany The German National Reconviction Statistics – Approach, structure and results Justina Fischer et al., University of St. Gallen, SIAW, Switzerland Determinants of crime for Swiss cantons with particular reference to direct legislation	Friday 16.00-17.15 h Room
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

6.4 Panel session: “Findings from the NSCR school study” Chair: Willem Smeenk, NSCR, The Netherlands Panelists: Peter van der Laan et al., NSCR, the Netherlands Misbehaviour at school and delinquency outside the school building Frank Weerman et al., NSCR, the Netherlands Peer networks in schools and network positions of delinquent and non-delinquent youth Anne-Marie Slotboom et al., Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, Department of Criminology, the Netherlands School policies and practices to reduce student problem behaviour and delinquency: Combining qualitative and quantitative data Paul Harland et al., NSCR, the Netherlands Perceptions of school sanctions by students with problem behaviour and the consequences of individual school interventions	Friday 16.00-17.15 h Room
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

6.5 Panel session: “Prison study from Hannover, Germany” Chair: Daniela Hosser, Criminological Research Institute of Lower Saxony, Germany Panelists: Daniela Hosser, Criminological Research Institute of Lower Saxony, Germany Conduct problems in childhood as a predictor of problems during detention Michael Windzio, Criminological Research Institute of Lower Saxony, Germany The impact of social integration inside of prison on recidivism. Evidence from longitudinal data Stefan Raddatz, Criminological Research Institute of Lower Saxony, Germany Drug abuse in youth prisons Werner Greve, University of Hildesheim, Germany Self in prison: Processes of self-esteem development incarceration and its developmental consequences Almut Koesling, Criminological Research Institute of Lower Saxony, Germany Prison officers and inmates – Adolescent prisoners subjective perspectives on institutional relationships	Friday 16.00-17.15 h Room
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

6.6 Panel session: “ Recent program developments to reintegrate high-risk delinquents form confinement into communities: selected examples from the USA” Chair: Troy Armstrong, California State University, Centre for delinquency and Crime Policy Studies, USA Panelists: Barbara Mendenhall, California State University, Centre for Delinquency and Crime Policy Studies, USA Reintegrating high risk youth in California: an experimental program Troy Armstrong, California State University, Centre for Delinquency and Crime Policy Studies, USA Maximizing Youth Opportunities & Development in Reintegrative Planning: the Rehabilitative Role of Vocational Training, Job Preparation, Placement and Follow-up William Barton, Indiana University, School of Social Work, USA Incorporating the Strengths Perspective into Intensive Juvenile Aftercare	Friday 16.00-17.15 h Room
--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

6.7 Panel session: “Juvenile victimization and delinquency in the States of the Baltic Sea” Chair: Frieder Dünkel, University of Greifswald, Germany Panelists: Janne Kivivuori, National Research Institute of Legal Policy, Finland Offending for others: Vicarious crime among Helsinki adolescents Andrzej Michalak, University of Szczecin, Poland The influence of the educational surroundings on crime in Szczecin Algimantas Čepas, Institute of Law, Lithuania (presents paper of Darius Valatkevicius & Gintautas Sakalauskas) Youth criminal behaviour: victims and offenders - The Mare Balticum project in Lithuania (Vilnius), 2002 Dirk Gebauer, University of Greifswald, Department of Criminology, Germany Factors of risk and resilience on different forms of juvenile delinquency: A comparative analysis of adolescents in the Baltic Sea region	Friday 16.00-17.15 h Room
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

6.8 Panel session: “Drug use” Chair: Hilgunn Olsen, Norwegian Institute for Alcohol and Drug Research, Norway Panelists: Hilgunn Olsen, Norwegian Institute for Alcohol and Drug Research, Norway User perspectives on a new political plan, targeted on splitting op the open drug scene in Oslo Martin Killias, University of Lausanne , Institute of Criminology and Penal Law, Switzerland Analysis of Swiss cannabis retail market through a hemp shops survey Caitlin Hughes, University of Melbourne, Department of Criminology, Australia Legislative approaches to drug usage in Portugal and Australia	Friday 16.00-17.15 h Room
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

6.9 Panel session: “Judicial treatment and gender” Chair: Sergio Herzog, University of Haifa, Department of Sociology, Israel Panelists: Jeanne Dean, Napier University, School of Law, Scotland Imprisoning women: Same old problems, similar or different solutions? Sergio Herzog et al., University of Haifa, Department of Sociology, Israel Chivalry in judicial treatment of female offenders: The moderating effect of ambivalent sexism Vassiliki Petoussi, University of Crete, Department of Sociology, Greece Women in Greek police	Friday 16.00-17.15 h Room
--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

6.10 Panel session: “Illegal human trafficking” Chair: Richard Staring, Erasmus University Rotterdam, Department of Criminology, The Netherlands Panelists: Mohamed Chawki et al., University of Lyon III, School of Law, France Technology is a double-edged sword: Illegal human trafficking in the information age Paola Monzini, Independent researcher, Italy Migrant trafficking via maritime routes: the case of southern Italy Richard Staring et al., Erasmus University Rotterdam, Department of Criminology, The Netherlands The social organisation of human smuggling Alexis Aronowitz, Ministry of Justice, Politie en Wetenschap, The Netherlands The Phenomenology of Human Trafficking in West Africa	Friday 16.00-17.15 h Room
--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

6.11 Panel session: “Fear of crime” Chair: S. Roché, CNRS-University of Grenoble, Department of Security and Society, France Panelists: Sebastian Roché, CNRS-University of Grenoble, Security and Society, France Fear of crime among young people Martin Wood, Home Office, Crime and Policing Group, United Kingdom Patterns of anti-social behaviour: findings from the British Crime Survey Outi Roivainen, The Police College of Finland, Research unit, Finland Feelings of insecurity in Finland Ines Ivicic et al., Institute of Social Sciences Ivo Pilar, Croatia Fear of crime in Croatia: its extent and predictors Agneta Mallén, Lund University, Department of Sociology, Sweden Fear of crime in a safe society	Friday 16.00-17.15 h Room
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

6.12 Panel session: “Geographical aspects of crime and crime policy” Chair: Per Stangeland, University of Malaga, Institute of Criminology, Spain Panelists: Zoë James, University of Plymouth, Department of Criminal Justice, United Kingdom Policing space: managing new travellers in England Per Stangeland, University of Malaga, Institute of Criminology, Spain The crime map. Geographical tools for police and criminologists Timothy Coupe et al., University of Cambridge, Institute of Criminology, United Kingdom The relationship between environmental characteristics and the risk of offenders being spotted at domestic burglaries. Jennifer Robinson, Northeastern University, College of Criminal Justice, USA Spatial Interplay: Measuring the Effects of Conjoined Cues in Environmental Criminology	Friday 16.00-17.15 h Room
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

6.13 Panel session: “Public-private security” Chair: Rick Sarre, University of South Australia, International Business, Australia Panelists: Diego Torrente, University of Barcelona, Department of Sociology, Spain The construction of private security services Mahesh Nalla et al., Michigan State University, School of Criminal Justice, USA Assessing the nature of relationships of crime prevention organizations in Slovenia Rick Sarre, University of South Australia, International Business, Australia Researching private policing: Challenges and agendas for researchers	Friday 16.00-17.15 h Room
--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------

6.14 Panel session: “Domestic violence” Chair: Rina Pal, University of Oxford, Department of Criminology & Criminal Justice, United Kingdom (to be announced) Panelists: Rina Pal, University of Oxford, Department of Criminology & Criminal Justice, United Kingdom Domestic Violence: An International Qualification of Human Rights Paula Hamilton, Manchester University, Department of Applied Social Science, United Kingdom Working effectively with Domestic Violence Perpetrators: The Crime and Disorder Challenge Daniel Varona Gomez, University of Girona. Law Faculty, Department of Public Law, Spain Protection of women victims of domestic violence in Spain	Friday 16.00-17.15 h Room
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------

6.15 International Consortium of Criminology Associations meeting	Friday 16.00-17.15 h Room
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------

Excursion City of Amsterdam	Friday 15.00-17.00h
-------------------------------------------	--------------------------------

EQCWP Informal Meeting	Friday 17.15-18.30 h
Wine reception hosted by Sage Publishers	Friday 17.15-18.30 h

Poster presentations Edgar Tijhuis, NSCR, the Netherlands The interface between legal and illegal actors in transnational crime: a casestudy Liesje Pennings, Leiden University, Department of Social Sciences, the Netherlands Recruitment into organised crime Sarah Brants, Leiden University, Department of Criminology and Penology, the Netherlands Police practices of combating prostitution by illegal immigrants in the Netherlands Claudia Kestermann, University of Greifswald, Department of Criminology, Germany Comparative analysis of women prisoners – Current situation, demand analysis and ‘best practice’	Friday 17.15-18.30 h Room
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------

Dinner cruise (separate registration)	Friday 19.30-22.00h
-----------------------------------------------------	--------------------------------

Crime passion danceparty at Aknaton (city centre of Amsterdam)	Friday 21.00-02.00h
------------------------------------------------------------------------------	--------------------------------

Saturday 28 August

7.1 Panel session: “European sourcebook group” (1st panel) Chair: Chris Lewis, University of Portsmouth, United Kingdom Panelists: Beata Gruszczynska, Warsaw University, IPSiR, Poland Crime in Central and Eastern European Countries in the enlarged Europe Marcelo Aebi, University of Sevilla, Institute of Criminology, Spain European Court Statistics from 1990-2000 Anna Alvazzi del Frate, United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, Research and Analysis Section, Austria The international crime victim survey in Europe	Saturday 09.00-10.15 h Room
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------

7.2 Meeting with the board of the European Journal of Criminology	Saturday 09.00-10.15 h Room
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------

7.3 Panel session: “Temporal aspects of crime” Chair: Stefaan Pleysier, Leuven University, Department of Penal Law and Criminology, Belgium Panelists: Stefaan Pleysier et al., Leuven University, Department of Penal Law and Criminology, Belgium Temporal invariance in longitudinal fear of crime research Suncica Vujic et al., Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, Department of Econometrics, the Netherlands Modelling the cyclical behavioural in crime and macroeconomic data Les Humphreys, Lancaster University, Centre for Applied Statistics, United Kingdom Developments in the Study of criminal deception: Official criminal careers of deceptive offenders Pieter van Baal et al., RIVM, the Netherlands Simulation research into perceptual deterrence	Saturday 09.00-10.15 h Room
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

7.4 Panel session: “Policing” Chair: Prof. C.D. Spinellis, Greece Panelists: Hubert Beste, University of Bielefeld, Institute for Interdisciplinary Research on Conflicts and Violence, Germany Policing German cities in the early 21st century Ronald van Steden, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, Department of Public Administration and Organisation Science, the Netherlands The changing ‘soul’ of Dutch policing: organisation, styles, practices and reforms of the policing system in the Netherlands Roderik Kouwenhoven, University of Twente, IPIT, the Netherlands Development in attitudes of Dutch police officers	Saturday 09.00-10.15 h Room
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

7.5 Panel session: “ What works VI ” Chair: Marjorie Oloo, University of Leicester, Criminology, United Kingdom Panelists: Colleen Moore, Anglia Polytechnic University, Department of Law, Criminology, United Kingdom Affecting the Disaffected and Vice versa Marjorie Oloo, University of Leicester, Department of Criminology, United Kingdom Supervising Young People Ido de Vries, Amsterdam stadsdeel Noord, Sector Welzijn en Onderwijs, The Netherlands Communities that Care: an evidence based strategy of preventing juvenile problem behavior. On the role of municipalities in dealing with juvenile criminal behavior in the Netherlands and how the strategy of Communities that Care offers tools for well administrating a preventive youth policy. Alana Diamond et al., Home Office, Research, Development & Statistics, United Kingdom Tackling Street Prostitution in England: Towards an holistic approach	Saturday 09.00-10.15 h Room
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

7.6 Panel session: “ What works VII ” Chair: Peter van de Laan, NSCR, the Netherlands Panelists: Maurice Vanstone et al., University of Wales Swansea, School of Social Science and International Development, United Kingdom Programme Integrity in the resettlement of offenders Hannah Smithson et al., University of Liverpool, Department of Civic Design, United Kingdom Does Mentoring Work? Experiences in North West England Dieter Burssens et al., Leuven University, Department of Criminal Law and Criminology, Belgium Growing towards ‘desirable’ prevention	Saturday 09.00-10.15 h Room
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------

7.7 Panel session: “Homicide” Chair: Kauko Aromaa, European Institute for Crime Prevention and Control, affiliated with the United Nations, Finland Panelists: Gabrielle Salfati et al., John Jay College of Criminal Justice, Department of Psychology, USA Serial murder: consistency in offender behaviour Anne-Marie Labalette et al., University of Montreal, Department of Criminology, Canada Firearm legislation impacts on homicide trends in Canada Kauko Aromaa, European Institute for Crime Prevention and Control, affiliated with the United Nations, Finland How to prevent homicides – a proposal for a Finnish reduction programme Mogens Nygaard Christoffersen, Danish National Institute of Social Research, Denmark Upbringing, lethal violence, other violent crime, and suicide attempt Stefano Caneppele, Università degli Studi di Trento/ Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore, Transcrime, Italy Homicide in North East Italy: possible prevention strategies	Saturday 09.00-10.15 h Room
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

7.8 Panel session: “Explaining violence” Chair: Dietrich Oberwittler, University of Cambridge, Institute of Criminology, United Kingdom Panelists: Dietrich Oberwittler, University of Cambridge, Institute of Criminology, United Kingdom Re-balancing routine activity and social disorganisation theories in the explanation of urban violence: a new approach to the analysis of spatial crime patterns based on population at risk Darrick Jolliffe et al., University of Cambridge, Institute of Criminology, United Kingdom The relationship between empathy and self-reported delinquency Lonnie Athens, Seton Hall University, Department of Criminal Justice, USA Dominance encounters as an explanation of violent criminal action	Saturday 09.00-10.15 h Room
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

7.9 Panel session: “Social representations of prison” Chair: Pierre V. Tournier, French National Scientific Research Centre (CNSR), University of Paris, France Panelists: Claudio Besozzi, International Centre for the Prevention of Crime, Canada Between paradise and hell; social representations of prison and narrative repertoires Pascal Remillieux, Dalloz Editions, French Association of Criminology, France French people’s knowledge on prisons. A 2003 study Pascal Décarpes, University of Strasbourg, Laboratoire "cultures et sociétés en Europe", France Prison issue in German and French newspapers	Saturday 09.00-10.15 h Room
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

7.10 Panel session: “Women and children trafficking, sex industry” Chair: Alexis Aronowitz, Ministry of Justice, Politie en Wetenschap, the Netherlands Panelists: Margaret Akullo, Metropolitan Police Service, Loughborough University, United Kingdom Child trafficking: the Metropolitan Police Service perspective Anna Klotchkova, Moscow State Lomonosov University, Law Department, Russia The organised forms of sexual operation of minors Keith Soothill et al., Lancaster University, Department of Applied Social Science, United Kingdom Kidnapping: A Criminal Profile of Persons Convicted 1979-2001 Gina Taylor et al., Home Office England and Wales, Research Development and Statistics, United Kingdom Evaluation of the Eaves Housing Project - a housing and support pilot for trafficked women Dilip Das, State University of New York, Department of Sociology and Criminology, USA Criminal Exploitation of Women and Children	Saturday 09.00-10.15 h Room
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

7.11	Saturday 09.00-10.15 h Room
--------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

7.12 Panel session: “The criminological enterprise” Chair: Henk van de Bunt, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, Erasmus University Rotterdam, Department of Criminology, the Netherlands Panelists: Noriyoshi Takemura, Toin University of Yokohama, Faculty of Law, Japan Criminality, risk and governmentality: exploration from perspective of chaos complexity Evi Girling, Keele University, Department of Criminology, United Kingdom The Italian Anti-death penalty movement in European and global penal politics Effi Lambropoulou, Panteion University for Social & Political Sciences, Department of Sociology, Greece The Greek criminological enterprise: From state to mass media criminology and back again Cindy Brown et al., University of Southern Mississippi, Department of Criminal Justice, USA Crime related television and its impact on students’ selection of criminology as a major David Indermaur, University of Western Australia, Crime Research Centre, Department of Law, Australia Who owns war? War and crime as political and media objects	Saturday 09.00-10.15 h Room
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

7.13 “How does the criminal justice system (ought to) work” Chair: Henk Elffers, NSCR, the Netherlands Panelists: Henk Elffers et al., NSCR, the Netherlands Minding the gap: How criminal judges and the general public see each other Melissa Vanbeselaere, Vrije Universiteit Brussels, Department of Criminology, Belgium Communication in mediation procedures in Belgium Barbara Sims et al., Penn State Harrisburg, School of Public Affairs, USA The efficacy of victim services programs: results of a statewide survey of crime victims Jan Terpstra, University of Twente, Institute of Social Safety Studies (IPIT), the Netherlands Local safety networks, a study on the role of the police, local government and citizens	Saturday 09.00-10.15 h Room
--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

7.14 Panel session: “Crime and victim surveys” Chair: Guillaume Beijers, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, Department of Criminology, the Netherlands Panelists: David Sorensen, University of Copenhagen, Faculty of Law, Denmark The extent and time course of repeat Burglary in Denmark: Global similarities, local differences Heather Salisbury, Home Office, Department of Crime surveys, research, development and statistics, United Kingdom Experience of crime and ethnicity, findings from the 2001/02 and 2002/03 British Crime Surveys Maria Lobo-Antunes, University of Maryland at College Park, Department of Criminology and Criminal Justice, USA Toward a theory of victimisation in the city of Lisbon, Portugal	Saturday 09.00-10.15 h Room
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

7.15 Meeting / discussion session: “Strategies to link US and non-US researchers in criminal justice research” Harry Dammer, University of Scranton, USA Jay Albanese, National Institute of Justice, USA

8.1 Panel session: “European sourcebook group” (2nd panel) Chair: Chris Lewis, University of Portsmouth, Institute of Criminal Justice Studies, United Kingdom Panelists: Christopher Lewis, University of Portsmouth, Institute of Criminal Justice Studies, United Kingdom Criminal justice statistics in Africa. The case of Kenya Martin Killias, University of Lausanne, Institute of Criminology and Penal Law, Switzerland New developments in the SRD methodology Bruno Aubusson de Cavarlay, CESDIP-CNRS, France International statistical comparisons : Errors, validation process and improvement in data quality Paul Smit et al., WODC, Research and Documentation Centre, Ministry of Justice, the Netherlands Detection rates, an international comparison	Saturday 10.30-11.45 h Room
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

8.2 Panel session: “Criminal careers” Chair: Henk Elffers, NSCR, the Netherlands Panelists: Henk Elffers, NSCR, The Netherlands The nice guy in a criminal context: staying nice, becoming crooked, or moving on? Georgia Zara, University of Turin, Department of Psychology, Italy The psychological dynamics of late criminal careers Susan McVie, University of Edinburgh, Edinburgh Study of Youth transitions and crime, United Kingdom Patterns of deviance underlying the age-crime curve: the long term evidence	Saturday 10.30-11.45 h Room
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------

8.3 Panel session: “What works IV” Chair: Gerben Bruinsma, NSCR, The Netherlands Panelists: Karin Wittebrood, Social and Cultural Planning Office, The Netherlands Increasing public safety in the Netherlands: what works? Silvia Ciotti Galetti, University for Foreigners Perugia, International Communication, Italy “AreaSicura”: public safety as quality of life. The final results Cliff Roberson, Washburn University, Department of Criminal Justice, USA How culture affects citizens' perception of police integrity	Saturday 10.30-11.45 h Room
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------

8.4	Saturday 10.30-11.45 h Room
-------------------	-----------------------------------------------

8.5	Saturday 10.30-11.45 h Room
-------------------	-----------------------------------------------

8.6 Panel session: “What works VIII” Chair: Hilde Tubex, Vrije Universiteit Brussels, Department of Criminology, Belgium Panelists: Katy de Kogel, WODC, Research and Documentation Centre, Ministry of Justice, The Netherlands Evaluation of the long stay unit of forensic psychiatric hospital Veldzicht & some dilemmas with respect to permanently dangerous patients Dieter Dölling, Institute of Criminology, Germany The developmental of value orientation in prison Hilde Tubex, Vrije Universiteit Brussels, Department of Criminology, Belgium The aims of a prison sentence these days Zdenek Karabec, Institute of Criminology and Social Prevention, Czech Republic Long term imprisonment in the Czech Republic	Saturday 10.30-11.45 h Room
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------

8.7 Panel session: “Sex offenders” Chair: Stelios Stylianou, Intercollege, Department of Social Sciences, Cyprus Panelists: Amanda Matravers, University of Cambridge, Institute of Criminology, United Kingdom Punishing sex offenders: the sexual offences Act 2003 Benoit Leclerc et al., Philippe Pinel Institute of Montreal, Research centre, Canada Manipulation, coercion or the use of no strategy: child sex offenders’ behaviour to get victim involved in sexual activity and their predictors Stelios Stylianou, Intercollege, Department of Social Sciences, Cyprus, Further exploration of control attitudes toward victimless sexual deviance	Saturday 10.30-11.45 h Room
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------

8.8 Panel session: “Organised crime control” Chair: Carlo Morselli, University of Montreal, Ecole de Criminologie, Canada Panelists: Carlo Morselli et al., University of Montreal, Ecole de Criminologie, Canada Law-enforcement effects on a drug importation network Mathilde Turcotte et al., University of Montreal, Ecole de Criminologie, Canada Adaptation problems and pressures to conformity in law-enforcement settings: obstacles to proactive control of organised crime targets Jeffrey McIlwain, San Diego University, Program in Criminal Justice and Criminology, USA Organised crime and the human experience: reflections on organised crime from antiquity to the modern day	Saturday 10.30-11.45 h Room
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------

8.9 Panel session: “The mechanisms and dynamics of the prison system” Chair: Max Kommer, Ministry of Justice, Strategy development department, the Netherlands Panelists: Joerg Dittmann, University of Constance, School of Law, Germany How does the penal system work? Implications of a resource dependence approach Julie Strypstein, Vrije Universiteit Brussels, Department of Criminology, Belgium Early release: the Belgian situation Max Kommer, Ministry of Justice, Strategy development department, the Netherlands Reaching the European level	Saturday 10.30-11.45 h Room
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------

8.10 Panel session: “Organised & corporate crime and corruption” Chair: Hans Nelen, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, Department of Criminology, the Netherlands Panelists: Londa Esadze, TRaCCC, Georgia Gender and corruption: a case study of Georgia Alexander Salagayev, Kazan State Technological University, Russia One hand washes another: Informal connections between organised criminal groups and law-enforcement agencies in Tatarstan Republic of Russia Anna Markovska et al., Canterbury Christ Church University College, United Kingdom Policing pharmaceutical companies in transitional countries: the case study in the Ukraine Patrick Walsh et al., Loyola University New Orleans, Department of Criminal Justice, USA Cigarettes as the Primary Target of Criminals- An International Perspective Anna Markina et al., University of Tartu, Institute of Law, Estonia Expected changes in cross-border crime in Estonia after EU enlargement Grat van den Heuvel, University of Maastricht, Department of Criminology, the Netherlands Fraud in the Dutch construction industry; lessons in corruption and collusion research	Saturday 10.30-11.45 h Room
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

8.11 Panel session: “Measuring crime using survey data” Chair: Alison Walker, Home Office, Department of Research, development and statistics, United Kingdom Panelists: Peter Wetzels et al., University of Hamburg, Department of Criminology, Germany Juvenile delinquency in Germany and Russia: results of comparative community based surveys in Volgograd and four German cities Sami Nevala, HEUNI, Finland International violence against women survey: Project overview and a status update Alison Walker et al., Home Office, Department of Research, development and statistics, United Kingdom Measuring government targets using survey data Kauko Aromaa et al., HEUNI, Finland Victimisation trends in Finland 1980-2003 Aleksandras Dobryninas et al., Vilnius University, Department of Social Theory, Lithuania Is the Lithuanian society safe?	Saturday 10.30-11.45 h Room
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

8.12 Panel session: Perceptions of crime Chair: Fiamma Terenghi, TRANSCRIME, Italy (to be announced) Panelists: Fiamma Terenghi, TRANSCRIME, Italy Graffiti and urban security Ciaran McCullagh, University College, Department of Sociology, Republic of Ireland Deconstructing random violence Jean Hine et al., University of Sheffield, School of Education, United Kingdom Schools, crime and antisocial behaviour: comparative perspectives Gisela Losseff-Tillmanns, University of Applied Sciences Duesseldorf, Germany A model for a dialogue between sciences and journalism Katrin Brettfield, University of Hamburg, Department of Criminology, Germany Analysis of a self-reported delinquency and police contacts: is the official registration of juvenile delinquents socially selective?	Saturday 10.30-11.45 h Room
--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

8.13	Saturday 10.30-11.45 h Room
--------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

8.14 Panel session: “What works IX.” Chair: Dee Wood Harper, Loyola University New Orleans, Department of Criminal Justice and Computer Information Science, USA Panelists: Bouke Wartna, WODC, Research and Documentation Centre, Ministry of Justice, The Netherlands The Dutch Offender s Index. Tracking recidivism and studying criminal careers Dee Wood Harper, Loyola University New Orleans, Department of Criminal Justice and Computer Information Science, USA Using Artificial Intelligence for Predicting Death Penalty Outcomes Dee Cook, University of Wolverhampton, Regional Research Institute, United Kingdom Implementing Specialist Domestic Violence Courts: lessons from England and Wales Miranda Boone, Willem Pompe Institute, Utrecht University, the Netherlands Legal boundaries of What Works	Saturday 10.30-11.45 h Room
--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

8.15	Saturday 10.30-11.45 h Room
--------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

8.16 ESC Working Group “Some future trends in juvenile justice” Chair: J. Junger-Tas, Willem Pompe Institute, Utrecht University, the Netherlands Panelists: Julian Roberts, University of Ottawa, Department of Criminology, Canada Juvenile justice reform in Canada Anne Wyvekens, Institut des hautes etudes de la sécurité intérieure, Département de la recherche, France The juvenile justice working group: some future trends in juvenile justice Ido de Vries, City District Amsterdam North, Sector Welzijn en Onderwijs, the Netherlands Communities that care: an evidence based strategy of preventing juvenile problem behaviour Ido Weijers, Utrecht University, Criminal Law, the Netherlands Family group conferencing: a new dimension of juvenile justice	Saturday 10.30-11.45 h Room
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Coffee Break	Saturday 11.45-12.15h
----------------------------	-------------------------------------------------------------

4rd Plenary “The impact of global events on crime control and the fight against terrorism” Chair: Kauko Aromaa, European Institute for Crime Prevention and Control, Finland Nikos Passas, Northeastern University, USA Jan van Dijk, United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, Austria	Saturday 12.15-13.00 h Room
Closing Ceremony	Saturday 13.00-13.30h
Meeting ESC Board	Saturday 14.00-13.30h